Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Wall entertained a number of their friends very informally at their club house in Wolf Pit, on Thursday, from 2 to 4 o'clock. Delicious barbecue and all the good things that go with it, were in waiting when the guests arrived, and they were all pretty near on time, for it had gotten out that Mr. John Sandy Covington and his helpers had been busy since early morn, preparing this real feast, which was certainly enjoyed by the guests. Besides those going down from Rockingham, there were many of the Wolf Pit neighbors invited. Mr. Wall is noted for his cordial hospitality, and now that he has Mrs. Wall, as his assistant, we all know what that means—a grand time always.

Mrs. Isaac London delightfully entertained the Young Ladies' Bridge Club and a number of specially invited guests, on Thursday afternoon of last week between the hours of four and six o'clock.

Tables were arranged in the reception hall and dining room, where the game was enthusiastically enjoyed. After several progressions and hard fought rubbers the game was called off, with Miss Lillian Long holding the top score in the club and Mrs. Henry Lebetter the highest among the visitors. Each received a pair of handsome silk hose. The hostess served a delicious course of turkey a la King, in patties, creamed potatoes, hot rolls, buttered, baked apples, pickle, and hot coffee.

Long leaf pine and winter greens were used in the decorations in this already attractive home.

Mrs. London's party was one of the season's prettiest entertainments and thoroughly enjoyed by all who were bidden.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stuart entertained a most enthusiastic week-end house-party up at Blewett's Falls, in honor of Mrs. Stuart's nephew, Master Arthur Glenn Corpening. Their guests were Johnnie McAuley, Beulah Bolton, Walter Jones and Arthur Corpening. The youngsters report "sure a good time" and were loath to depart for home when Monday came.

Miss Mary Entwistle entertained the Salem girls of Rockingham, at a five-course dinner, in compliment to the delightful house-guest of Miss Sara Lily Dockery, Miss Emilie Dickey, of Georgia, on Saturday evening. Salem colors, yellow and white, were in evidence throughout the evening, from the grape fruit cocktail to the ice cream, the latter being served on a luscious yellow peach. Miss Entwistle's guests were Miss Emilie Dickey, Sara Lily Dockery, Helen Long, Octavia Scales, Berta West, Wilma Stansell, and Miss Williams. After dinner, "just a happen so" of course, calling were Messrs. John Cole, Tip Steele, William Leak, June Diggs and Bob Steele.

Mr. Claude Gore spent the week-end in Wilmington with his parents, returning to Rockingham Monday night.

The many friends in Rockingham are glad to welcome Lieut. Jesse McCullen, who is in the city to visit his sister, Mrs. John Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Leak entertained at a beautifully appointed five-course dinner on Wednesday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Mial Leak, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Wall, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Leak. The table was covered in handsome lace with a magnificent silver basket of pink roses. Mrs. Leak's other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leak, Mrs. Pickett Leak and Mr. William Leak.

Mr. W. E. Crosland has gone to Charlotte to be absent a week or ten days. While Mr. Crosland is away Mrs. Crosland will spend the timewith her mother, Mrs. Lucy P. Russell, in Rockingham.

Limit on Sugar Removed.

The General Food Administration last week removed the restriction on the use of sugar, so that now merchants may sell to individual consumers their reasonable requirements of sugar. Merchants are no longer required to keep records of their sales of sugar.

Also, the $3.50 per bale fixed for ginning cotton shall now be regarded as the maximum price but may no longer be regarded as the minimum price.

Flu in Anson.

Up to Wednesday 45 cases of flu were reported as being in Wadesboro. Many cases have re-appeared throughout Anson county, and the Board of Health last week ordered all schools and churches closed.

John T. Patrick Dead.

John Tarrant Patrick died at Southern Pines Saturday night. The interment was held at Wadesboro, at which town he was born in 1852. Mr. Patrick was widely known as a promoter, he having been the Industrial agent for the Seaboard for many years. He was the founder and promoter of Southern Pines. Mr. Patrick was well known in Richmond county, he having "stuck" type at Rockingham during some part of the 'Seventies.

Letters from Soldiers.

Mr. J. W. Jenkins has given the Post-Dispatch two letters from soldier-boys in France, one from Neal Chappell and one from Hollie McDonald. We are taking the following extracts from them:

Neal Chappell.

"Nov. 6th.—Have been getting along fine over here; am well fed and treated right. Things are surely going our way now; looks like we must win before many days pass.

Well, when I came over, we came across England, and just after reaching France I got sick and was kept in a British hospital for two weeks. The nurses were more than kind; but before I left the hospital, the Huns tried to bomb it. After getting well, I rejoined my company in Belgium, where we staid two months. We could hear the big guns roar, see daily aeroplane fights overhead, and fully realize that this was WAR. We all hope the end will be soon, so that we can come home. Give my best to my friends. I think of them often. Your friend, Neal Chappell, 105 Supply Train, Headquarters Co."

Hollie McDonald.

"Nov. 4th.—Wish I could be at home but we have not yet quite finished our job. But we have been getting our part of the Huns. His famous line (Hindenburg) did not hold when we went against it. We went through it like a rabbit going through a field. I had some pretty close calls; got holes shot through my coat by machine gun bullets, but that didn't stop me. But one of his gas did, though for only a short time. Had to stay in a hospital for a week from gas, but when we go in line again somebody will have to pay! We are out for a rest and today and tomorrow are Field Days with us; we will have all kinds of sports, horse racing, wrestling, boxing jumping etc. Does feel good to get behind the lines out of reach of Jerry's guns; he sure does send over big ones. Tell the boys at home they ought to come over: the water is fine. Guess you folks will soon be thinking of Christmas. Have a Jerry helmet for you. Wonder if M. L. Tucker is in the service yet? Haven't received any answers to my letters to him. Well, it is chow time, so I will close. Hollie McDonald."

Man Severely Cut.

W. B. Nelson was severely cut in four places Tuesday night about seven o'clock by Will Woodard, in the card-room of Hannah Pickett mill. The injured man was carried to the James hospital for treatment. He is getting on nicely and should leave there within ten days. A warrant was sworn out for Woodard, but he is not to be found.

Officers Active.

Revenue and county officers the past week have been especially active, and there are now several less blockade stills in operation.

On last Saturday deputy collectors Shores and Morrison, and deputy sheriff Reynolds broke up 60-gallon still on the H. J. Rogers sand-hill farm in Wolf Pit. On Monday Olen Rainwaters was arrested charged with being its operator. He was held in jail Monday night but released Tuesday on $200 bond for appearance here tomorrow (Friday) for preliminary hearing before a magistrate.

On Monday afternoon Sheriff McDonald, deputy collector Shores and deputy Reynolds bagged two stills on the Hicks farm in Rockingham township, within 3-4 mile of each other. One was 25 and the other 60-gallons capacity. Meal and malt was at one ready for firing up the next day.

Deputy collectors Shores and Brown, and deputy sheriff Reynolds Wednesday morning made a raid in Wolf Pit. A worm and still was found in a swamp 200 yards from a house occupied by Colon Chavis. The cap was not found. Search was made of Chavis' premises, and a gallon of whiskey was found in his house and a gallon and a half buried under his smokehouse. He was arrested but released under a $200 cash bond for his appearance for trial here Friday at 11.

"GOOD WORK!"

The Red Cross badge of membership is a delight to the soul of the man in khaki, or navy blue. He knows its true significance in war as well as peace.

So do the thousands of American mothers and wives and sisters who have had their loved ones with the colors.

So do the hundreds of thousands of men, women, and children of war-torn Belgium, France, Italy, Roumania, Serbia, Russia, Palestine and wherever Red Cross work has been going on.

It is up to every man and woman in free and happy America to see to it personally that the American Red Cross continues to carry on its great work of love and humanity.
